Covid-19 Information

The health and safety of all attendees is our top priority.

We will be abiding by recommendations made by the University of Texas at Austin, the City of Austin, and the CDC. Proof of vaccination or a negative covid test taken the morning of October 23 is already a requirement to participate in the masterclass. Depending on the state of the pandemic, additional safety measures may be mandatory (e.g. masks and/or distancing while indoors for presentations). We are exploring alternatives, such as holding presentations outdoors.

The city of Austin has a system of five stages, 1 being the best and 5 being the worst, to roughly describe the average number of daily new cases of covid-19. This event will not take place in stage 5 or 4, and stage 3 is still being debated.

Austin has spent the majority of August in stage 5. The rate of community transmission must begin to decline soon for this event to safely take place. Please let us know if you have any questions.

We will make a final decision by October 10.
